

CAMBISTAT

Cambistat is a new product offered by Mead Tree & Turf Care that has been shown to provide significant benefits to your trees. Research has proven that Cambistat is an effective means of controlling both the size and health of your valuable trees. Cambistat gently slows the growth of trees allowing the tree to redirect some of its energy to root production, defense chemical production and other functions which provide for a more durable tree. In addition to providing healthy ways to control size, Cambistat can significantly improve the health and aesthetic value of the trees on your property. With the Cambistat treatment you can expect to see greener leaves, reduced insect and disease injury and a greater tolerance to drought and other environmental stresses. Cambistat is a healthy solution for trees in various situations including those located too close to the house, trees near pools, patios and decks, trees in a limited growing area and older or unhealthy trees that may be in decline or have become an unattractive part of your landscape. With the introduction of this product to your service options, Mead Tree and Turf Care can provide another scientifically proven solution for all of your tree care needs.
